1. Put the block part A to the hole under the base tank.

2. Put the block part B to the hole on the base tank, then set the lock screws and make it tight.

3. By the same way as points above to connect the four parts tank together, and make the lock screws tight.

4. Put the foursquare block part into the big hole on the tank, then put the base in it.

5. Make the tank positive, then put the foursquare block part to the big hole. Put the center cover, and make it tight.

6. Connect the support feet and the tank.

7. Put four support feet to the four holes on the tank in turn.

8. Push the nether block part to the slot, and make it tight.

9. Put the level pole to the top of the main pole.

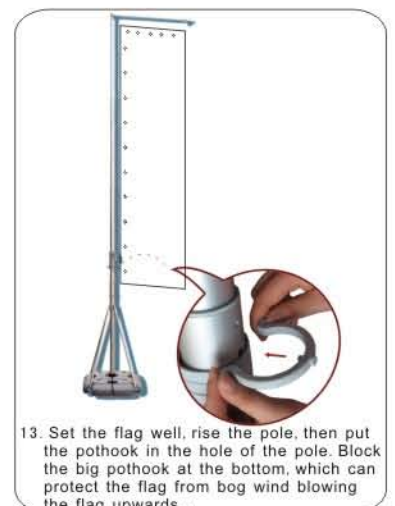

10. Put the connector screw on the top of the main pole and make the screw tight.

11. Press the lock button.

12. Pull the flagpole upwards.

13. Set the flag well, rise the pole, then put the pothook in the hole of the pole. Block the big pothook at the bottom, which can protect the flag from bog wind blowing the flag upwards.
